The Annual K-6 Roof Photo

It was a beautiful day as the elementary students and staff smiled up to the gymnasium roof where photographer Bill Guy was ready to take the annual group picture.

The 2018-19 school photo will soon be on display outside the elementary school main office. Past photos are displayed in chronological order in the hallway outside the gym.
Building Math Stamina

Athletes don’t just wake up amazing at their sport. They have to train and build up their stamina. So, Mrs. Taylor’s mathematicians are building up their “math stamina.” They start by working in their math centers for a few minutes, then, every day another minute or two is added until they’ve increased their “math stamina” and reached their goal.

Small Format, Big Impact

This year, to get back in the swing of making art, Mrs. Fritz’s upper-level art students participated in a Post-It Note Art Contest. The students were challenged to make a piece of art that stood out even though it was very small. The administration choose three winners and there was also a Students’ Choice award. Congratulations to Caitlin A., Skylar S., Amaya G., and Mason S. who won some fun new art supplies!
Students Move Beyond the Text to Gain Understanding of the Holocaust

Mrs. Penepent’s English classes are studying The Diary of Anne Frank. One assignment is for the students to think of what they would bring with them to go into hiding like the Frank family. Students chose to bring sentimental items such as pictures and family albums as well as practical items such as tools and blankets. Most decided since they were going into hiding because of their religion, they chose to bring the Torah as well.

The 4th Grade Classes Step Back in Time

The field trip to Ganondagan State Historic Site in Victor introduced the fourth grade to the study of the Haudenosaunee people and culture. It is the original site of a 17th century Seneca town. Students visited a historic longhouse replica, toured the gallery of artifacts, and learned about the creation story at the Seneca Art & Culture Center.
